

A child's drawing of a city scene. In the background, there are several tall, colorful buildings in shades of red, pink, green, and yellow. A large rainbow is drawn across the middle of the image. In the foreground, there are smaller, simple houses with triangular roofs and square windows. The sky is filled with blue, wavy lines representing clouds. A bright yellow sun with rays is in the top right corner. A white, cloud-like banner is at the top, containing the title text. Another white banner is at the bottom right, containing the subtitle and school information.
